Whitmer, no. Two women will be hard.

Kelly is fine but I think he should be in the senate. He's great but low energy.

Cooper is fine but a little older and not much energy.

Walz is a great governor. A little older, though.

Honestly Andy Beshear is the best bet.

My Uncle Donald Trump Told Me Disabled Americans Like My Son 'Should Just Die'

by Fred Trump III (Time)

No empathy. No remorse. No soul.

No more. TIME TO LEAVE.

HarrisForPresident2024

I got him up to speed on what Eric had told me. I said I'd heard the fund for William was running low, and unfortunately, the expenses certainly were not easing up as our son got older. In fact, with inflation and other pressures, the needs were greater than they'd been. "We're getting some blowback from Maryanne and Elizabeth and Ann Marie. We may need your help with this. Eric wanted me to give you a call."

Donald took a second as if he was thinking about the whole situation.

"I don't know," he finally said, letting out a sigh. "He doesn't recognize you. Maybe you should just let him die and move down to Florida."

Wait! What did he just say? That my son doesn't recognize me? That I should just let him die?

Did he really just say that? That I should let my son die . . . so I could move down to Florida?

In

@time

, Trump's nephew recounts a conversation w/ then-president Trump after 2020 White House meeting with disability advocates.

"Those people..." Trump said of people w/ complex care needs. "The shape they're in, all the expenses, maybe those kinds of people should just die."

(ht:

@annabower

He sounded interested and even concerned. I thought he had been touched by what the doctor and advocates in the meeting had just shared about their journey with their patients and their own family members. But I was wrong.

"Those people . . ." Donald said, trailing off.
"The shape they're in, all the expenses, maybe those kinds of people should just die."

I truly did not know what to say. He was talking about expenses. We were talking about human lives. For Donald, I think it really was about the expenses, even though we were there to talk about efficiencies, smarter investments, and human dignity.

I turned and walked away.

gtconway3dg

16h16 hours ago

Fred Trump also describes a phone call he had with Donald about funding to support medical care for his son, William, who is disabled.

"I don't know," Trump allegedly told his nephew. "He doesn't recognize you. Maybe you should just let him die and move down to Florida."

JD Vance repeatedly indicated in 2016 that he believed Donald Trump had committed sexual assault, even suggesting in one TV segment that in a 'he said, she said' situation Trump was less credible than one of his accusers. After watching Fox News this morning we only have one question, is Donald Trump ok?

Main takeaways Trump gave to the American people:

- Trump praised his Project 2025
- Trump is flustered and lashing out
- When Trump wasn't lying, he was making threats
- Abortion bans are good, mail-in voting is bad
- Praised dictators because he wants to be one
- Trump is clearly worried he made the wrong pick in JD Vance
- Trump is old and quite weird?
- This guy shouldn't be president ever again

Elizabeth Martinez Strauss: PORTRAIT OF A FLORIDA DINO

This woman is running as a Democrat for State Attorney, 13th Judicial Circuit in Tampa versus beleaguered attorney, Andrew Warren, who foolishly signed a petition saying he wouldn't prosecute people for crimes involving transgenderism and abortion. That signature got him fired by Governor DeSantis. This attorney, Mrs. Strauss, claims to be a Democrat but attends a church which is virulently homophobic, among other things.

"Elizabeth Martinez Strauss is a lifelong resident of Tampa, Florida. She is a third-generation lawyer to practice in Hillsborough County. ... Elizabeth attended the Academy of the Holy Names and Plant High School. She graduated from the University of South Florida Honors College cum laude with a B.A. in Psychology and received her J.D. from Stetson University College of Law. ... She started her career as an Assistant Public Defender in Tampa, successfully representing hundreds of clients in criminal cases." <https://www.votestrauss.com/about>

Her key platform items are:

Prioritizing the Worst Offenders and Fair Sentencing --- "Criminal defendants have family" (but does Strauss support all families, not just heterosexual ones?)

Strauss attends Radiant Church. Non-Denominational, with her husband, Charles. From the church's website:

Biblical Marriage has only one meaning and is clearly defined in scripture as a covenant, a sacred bond uniting one man (born a man) and one woman (born a woman) in a single, exclusive union for life, instituted by and publicly entered into before God (Matthew 19:4-6), and that God intends sexual intimacy to occur only between a man and a woman who are married to each other (I Corinthians 6:18, 7:2-5; Hebrews 13:4). <https://weareradiant.com/our-mission/>

TEL AVIV, Israel, and GAZA STRIP — A rocket hit a sports complex filled with children playing soccer in the Israeli-controlled Golan Heights region Saturday afternoon, on the same day that an Israeli strike in Gaza devastated a school building and killed dozens of people.

The airstrike in central Gaza was the latest to shatter a school used to shelter displaced Palestinian residents Saturday morning, killing 30 and wounding more than 100. The Gazan Health Ministry said many of the dead were children.

I think, in a small part, Trump chose JD Vance in order to humiliate him. That's very important to Trump. On paper, at least, Vance has done things that Trump hasn't, like the Ivy League education, actually written a book, military, etc and Trump needs to put him in his place. He loves doing that to to pretty much everyone around him. A portrait I did of Trump wearing a tinpot back in 2020. Unfortunately it's extremely prescient.

That 2016 Harris/Sanchez Senate race debate was epic. Sanchez way over-rehearsed and her intensely dramatic delivery was laughable. At this year's State Of The Union response speech, Katie Britt gave us an updated taste of the technique without the dance moves. And they wonder why Kamala laughs.

And is there an *un-flag* process? Like if we talk uh... SPORTS until November, and then don't feel the pressure to be quite so relentlessly enthusiastic about our specific SPORTS team, and go back to all dogs all the time, how long until we're no longer flagged as a SPORTS account?

vincentchip

15h15 hours ago

Obviously, your account is flagged as political and your account expansion is throttled. Still, you already have a sizeable, enthusiastic following who share your content. Imagine small accounts similarly flagged. With few users to share the content, it is a death knell being banned from the 'for you' feed. Obviously the policy is designed to limit the rise of personalities despite what Meta says about protecting users from political content. This is what Post did and it ruined their platform.

@mosseri

you really should do a town hall with big influencers like

@keithedwards

, and see if there is a middle ground here.

So much of social media is talking about the current moment, politics often is the current moment.

Surely there is a way to have safe guards around disinformation & misinformation (which I assume is a big reason for this decision) and have open dialogue about what's happening in the world.

There has to be a way to do this that isn't as hard line.

This nation was founded on a simple yet profound principle: No one is above the law.

So today, I'm calling for three bold reforms to restore trust and accountability to the court and our democracy.

1. No more immunity for crimes a former president committed while in office

2. Term limits for Supreme Court justices

3. A binding code of conduct for the Supreme Court

Read more about how these actions would strengthen the guardrails of our democracy here: wapo.st/4c9er...

rep mattgaetz

3h3 hours ago

Under Kamala Harris, the Air Force tells people “that’s savage” is a microaggression. I’m sorry, but I WANT a savage military to protect us from China! I will be calling on the Air Force to make clear if they agree with this radical document!

rep mattgaetz

3h3 hours ago

The Air Force guidebook urges Airmen to avoid saying they “don’t see color” because it is an “erasure” of black, indigenous, and other people of color and “conveys ignorance of the racial discrimination faced by people of color.”

rep mattgaetz

3h3 hours ago

Additionally, the guidebook states that calling someone a member of “the opposite sex” is “transphobic” and “falsely conflates sex and gender identity,” while also saying “toughen up” implies “someone isn’t good enough.”

rep mattgaetz

3h3 hours ago

Lastly, it states that Airmen shouldn’t hang posters that call for standing for the flag because these “patriotic values” are an “expression in opposition to a specific form of anti-racist protest.”

Hey Matt, maybe do some homework before you go off. The opening ceremony was about Dionysus, the Greek god of festivity and wine, not Jesus or the Last Supper. The "blue guy" was literally from Greek mythology. Try getting your facts straight next time! #ResearchIsYourFriend EducateYourself

hbschouten

3h3 hours ago

You are either ignorant of the facts or you are intentionally pushing a false narrative. This wasn't about mocking Christianity. The performance was meant to replicate a painting of the Bacchus, from Greek mythology. It wasn't about the last supper. Anyone who watched the entire broadcast saw a blue-skinned Dionysus was part of it. In the gospel there is not mentioned of a blue-skinned figure at the Last Supper. Below are images of the telecast and the artwork in question.

Children killed in knife attack in NW England

<https://www.npr.org/2024/07/30/nx-s1-5057100/children-killed-stabbing-rampage-england>

LONDON — A 9-year-old girl, Alice Aguiar, wounded in a stabbing attack at a Taylor Swift-themed dance and yoga class in northwestern England died Tuesday, bringing the death toll to three, as police questioned a 17-year-old suspect arrested minutes after the rampage. Merseyside Police said the other fatalities were girls aged 6 and 7. Eight children and two adults remain hospitalized after the attack in Southport. Both adults and five of the children are in critical condition.

Witnesses described scenes “from a horror movie” as bloodied children ran from the attack just before noon on Monday. The suspect was arrested soon after on suspicion of murder and attempted murder. Police said he was born in Cardiff, Wales, and had lived for years in a village about 3 miles from Southport. He has not yet been charged. Parry said most of the victims appeared to be young girls.

“The mothers are coming here now and screaming,” Parry said. “It is like a scene from a horror movie. ... It’s like something from America, not like sunny Southport.”
